

CONTACT WITH CHILDREN & YOUNG PEOPLE

CAN I USE PHYSICAL CONTACT WHEN COACHING?

Yes. It is acknowledged that physical contact is an important part of coaching. Physical contact is also important for building rapport and connection, such as a pat on the back or a high five, as long as it is appropriate.

Appropriate physical contact with children and young people includes contact that is relevant to Australian Football (football) and within the confines of your role as coach or another relevant role. This may seem subjective, and the boundaries around physical contact may differ from person to person, however these guidelines should provide direction to ensure your own behaviour is appropriate and the behaviours and actions you observe in others are too.

Play by the Rules define appropriate and inappropriate physical contact as:

Physical contact is appropriate if it:

- is used to assist in skill development
- is required for the child or young person's safety
- occurs with the player's understanding and permission
- is for the child or young person's benefit, not adult gratification
- occurs in an open environment.

Physical contact is inappropriate if it:

- is aggressive, dangerous or causes physical harm or injury
- involves wrestling, sparring, pushing and shoving, even if intended as fun
- is sexual in nature, including touching the groin, genital area, buttocks, breasts or any part of the body that may cause distress or embarrassment
- frightens, distresses or embarrasses a child
- destroys a child's or young person's trust
- occurs in a private place.

DEFINITIONS

A Child: someone involved in footy who is 12 years or younger – usually a player but may also be a sibling of a player or child of an adult at the club.

A Young Person: someone involved in footy who is between the ages of 13 and 18 years old – usually a player but could also be an umpire or in another role at the club, or a sibling or child of a player.

Adult: someone involved in footy who is over the age of 18 – this could be a coach, manager, umpire, club official, WA Football staff member, volunteer, and/or a parent.

Child safeguarding policies, procedures and codes of conduct relevant to your role should provide further detail on what appropriate and inappropriate physical contact looks like in Australian football.

HOW DO I KNOW WHAT IS OK AND WHAT IS NOT OK?

The What Does Abuse in Footy Look Like resource provides examples of types of abuse and what abusive behaviours might look like in football. Make sure you are familiar with this.

If you are still unsure, ask yourself the following questions to help navigate you in good practice when interacting with children and young people. If you answer no to any of the following questions you must reassess your actions.

- Is it relevant to football and my role?
- Is the child or young person aware of what I am doing, and why? Do I have their consent? Could they explain it clearly to someone else?
- Is the child or young person showing any signs of distress or discomfort? If so, stop.
- Would I do this if another adult was watching?
- Would I be comfortable with someone using the same contact with my own child?
- Is there someone else who would be more appropriate to make this contact? E.g. The first aid officer / a physio or the child or young person's parent.

WHAT IS PHYSICAL HARM?

Physical harm includes harm to a child or young person's body such as welts, bruises or other physical injury caused by actions such as hitting, shoving, pushing, punching, or slapping.

Not all physical harm is the result of physical abuse, it may be the result of actions intended to be fun or playful. However, these behaviours are not appropriate in the context of football. They are considered unprofessional when between an adult and a child or young person (eg. coach to player), and unsafe behaviour when between two or more young people (eg. teammates).

Additionally, a child or young person does not need to be physically hurt for these behaviours to be harmful. These behaviours have the potential to cause harm and can be interpreted by those involved or even those observing, as aggressive, controlling, and an unreasonable exertion of power. Even when no physical harm is caused, they can result in feelings of shame, humiliation, embarrassment, and fear and are not acceptable.

WHAT IS SEXUAL MISCONDUCT?

Sexual misconduct refers to behaviours of a sexual nature towards a child or young person and is always inappropriate, illegal and a breach of child safeguarding policies, procedures and codes of conduct.

You must not under any circumstances, engage in behaviour of a sexual nature with or in the presence of a child or young person.

Sexual misconduct includes contact (including touching, caressing, holding) and non-contact behaviour (including verbal or online communication, exposure to pornography).

Inappropriate contact behaviours of a sexual nature include, but are not limited to:

- sexual intercourse
- sexual penetration
- kissing
- touching of the genital, buttocks or breast areas or
- inappropriate and unnecessary physical touching of any kind.

Inappropriate non-contact behaviours of a sexual nature include but are not limited to;

- flirting
- sexual innuendo
- inappropriate communication online or in person
- nudity
- exposure to pornography or
- requests to observe sexual acts.

WHAT IS THE AGE OF CONSENT?

It is acknowledged that you hold a position of authority over children and young people under the age of 18. Under no circumstances are you, as a person in a position of authority, to engage in behaviour of a sexual nature with a child or young person.

WHAT IS GROOMING?

Grooming is the actions an adult takes to position themselves to commit a sexual offence against a child or young person. It does not always involve behaviours of a sexual nature. The imbalance of power in coach-athlete relationships, reduced supervision and/or presence of parents provides an environment where grooming can occur. Grooming is a criminal offence in some states and strictly prohibited within the AFL.

SAY SOMETHING

Even if you have not spoken directly with a child or young person but you have a SUSPICION that something is not right, it is important you say something.

You can:

Speak directly with someone you trust in football like a coach, team manager, umpire, official or club representative.

Write down your concerns and pass them onto your club or association via email or a letter.
